DSV Austin and Aarhus Business College Students Meet to Discuss DSV

Global Transport and Logistics

Employees from the Austin office recently presented on the culture of DSV to a group of students who traveled to Texas from Aarhus Business College in Denmark.

They learned about what sets DSV apart from competitors, how DSV plans for future employees through the Young DSV program, and the work DSV does as part of the Corporate Social Responsibility.

The students were interested in hearing all about the DNA of DSV and how the company has managed to be profitable year after year.

Terry Smith, Sales Manager, presenting to the students of Aarhus Business College during their visit to Austin Community College.

Of course there was plenty of DSV swag for the students to take back to Denmark!
